

A Synaxis of Latin Saints (Plain Reading)

September 16th

On September 16th we commemorate Saint Edith of Wilton, the daughter of Saint Wilfrida and the holy nun of Wilton in England. She reposed at the young age of twenty-two but was known throughout England for her generosity to the poor and her peaceful and sanctified relationship with nature and the animals of Wilton.

Verses

On this day we commemorate Saint Ludmilla the Princess of Czechia. She was entrusted with the education of the young prince St Wenceslas, she was the victim of jealousy and was strangled by hired assassins.

By the intercessions of Thy Saints, O Christ God, have mercy upon us. Amen.
